XCP Evolution 2000 X-Ray Film Positioners Kit (Dentsply-Rinn)

DENTSPLY Rinn's XCP film holding system has been the state-of-the-art in dental radiography for over a third of a century. Steadily refined over the years, recent improvements have made today's XCP easier to use and brought a new level of patient comfort. Now the XCP brings precise film positioning to a whole new area - endodontics.

• Aligns film and prevents cone cutting, for perfect x-rays every time. XCP long-cone technique reduces distortion.
• Color-coded for easy assembly
• Rounded bite blocks with no sharp edges improve comfort; open bite block design gives a softer bite
• NEW! Anterior vertical bite-wings using #1 x-ray film
• Same-arch bite technique for bite-wings with a more closed bite
• Thinner, lighter aiming rings, compatible with rectangular and round open-ended PIDs
• New, shorter arms fit all intraoral x-ray units, guide PID for proper alignment
• Fully steam autoclavable

Cushies (Flow X-Ray)

Cushies are pre-slit, individually wrapped foam tubes that slip onto dental film to "cushion" its edges when placed in the mouth. Place one between a patient's teeth and the RAPD bite-blocks to make it easier for the patient to hold the bite-block in place. Cushies fit either the long or short side of dental film.

Endodontic Film Positioning System (Flow X-Ray)

Flow's Endodontic Positioner System works just like our RAPD system except that it is designed specifically for endodontic x-rays. It combines the advantages of the right angle positioning technique in an endodontic format to eliminate cone-cutting when taking x-rays during endodontic procedures. The entire kit is autoclavable and, like the RAPD System, is available as a kit or replacement bite-blocks, arms and rings.

Hyperion Panoramic Imager Morphology Recognition Technology (MyRay)

Panoramic Imager with Morphology Recognition Technology (MRT)

Hyperion is a highly-advanced panoramic imager, which employs the latest technologyes to enhance radiography acquisition and diagnostics.

Via laser-guide multi-motor kinematics, Hyperion positions itself around pations, reads subjects and scans accordingly, Morophology Recognition Technology (MRT) automatically identifies patient size and all parameters required to ensure correct X-Ray exposure.

No need to program exposure times, KV or mA technical factors.

15 different diagnostic programs are available to satisfy any possible diagnostic need.

Microcopy Digital Sensor Holders

Flaps Sensor Tabs (Microcopy)

Perfect for horizontal or vertical bitewings.

Excellent for any periapical, using parallel or bisecting angle technique.
Horizontal & Vertical Bite Wings

Posterior & Anterior Periapicals
Accommodates all #0, #1 and #2 sensors.
Stick the Flaps for desired position.

Position film/sensor FLAPs for x-ray. Tongue presses against back of film/sensor. Bite into the FLAPs.

Sensor: snug-fitting sheaths are required!

SENSOR FLAPS® are designed with extra length for accurate, comfortable sensor positioning, assuring correct alignment for horizontal and vertical bitewing and per apical x-rays. Accommodates all #0, #1, and #2 sensors.

X-Ray

Wing-A-Ray Digital X-Ray Holder (Steri-Shield)

A new Digital X-Ray positioning tool is now available for use with the popular Wingers sensors holders. Easy Bisecting Angle Technique. Positions for both Anterior and Posterior Images.

This incredibly versatile new digital x-ray positioning tool, allows the practitioner familiar with the "Bisecting Angle Technique" to produce anterior and posterior images of uppers and lowers with ease. Used together with the Wingers® bitewing holders, this system will quickly produce an FMX. No damaging pressure or clamping of the sensor is necessary with Wing-A-Ray™, the Wingers® anterior and posterior disposable holders slide easily into the tool to hold the digital sensor. Fits all digital sensors on the market, Wing-A-Ray™ can be cold or heat sterilized (105 °C Max.), Wingers® sensor holders are disposable.

• Easy Bisecting Angle Technique!
• Works with Wingers® Digital Sensor Holders!
• Positions for Both Anterior & Posterior Images!

TrollDental Digital Sensor Holders

TrollByte Digital Sensor Holder Kit (TrollDental)

TrollByte is the first sensor holder specifically developed for digital technology.

You only need three holders for a complete intraoral x-ray exam.

Each holder is a thin, sturdy one-piece, which eliminates remounting of aiming pins and rings, saving time and money.
TrollByte holders ensure a correct sensor angle.
Autoclavable.

Digital Phosphor Plates Scanner
INSTANT & INTELLIGENT
LASER FAST IMAGE PROCESSING
FLEXIBLE IN MORE WAYS THAN ONE
POWERFUL SOFTWARE INCLUDED

Compare to ScanX Duo from Air Techniques

Imaging is fast and simple. The smart top-loading design harnesses the power of gravity for simple loading and fuss-free use. In less than ten seconds, the crystal clear radiograph appears on the computer screen, ready for viewing. Simply insert the next exposed plate when ready

Phosphor plates have all the benefits of traditional X-ray film with the immediacy and environmental benefits of digital radiography. There is no more need for hazardous and costly film processing chemicals with the DIGIREX PSP Scanner.

Patient comfort is also assured with thin flexible plates in multiple sizes. After a quick scan of exposed plates, high resolution images are ready to be stored, emailed, and printed at the touch of a button.

Plates can be used over and over saving time and money on costly traditional film. Digital imaging is finally within the reach of any dental office's financial and technical abilities

X-Pod Wireless Dental Digital X-Ray Sensor (MyRay)

Stand-Alone Wireless Digital X-Ray sensor with

Self-sufficient diagnostics

The sensors have cut corners, a two fold filtering system to give crisp high detailed image boasting 25 lp/mm.

X-POD is smaller than an IPAD and contains its own imaging software, with a touch screen and the ability to plug the sensors directly in to it, so that it allows you to simply walk into the operatory room and instantly collect crystal clear radiographs. Review and zoom the high resolution images on a wide yet pocketsize touch screen display

Don't worry about external power supply, wires, software or a PC. X-Pod incorporates them all.

Leave X-Pod on charge overnight and get a whole days auton-

WIREguard Digital Sensor Cable Protector (IndiGreen)

After

Pre-slit to install securely in minutes!

During normal operation, digital sensor cables kink, coil and bend. Heavy objects set or rolled over them can damage their insulation. Over time, this constant wear can cause a short that makes them inoperable, costing a fortune in repair or replacement.

Invented and proven in a busy practice, WireGuard extends the life of sensitive digital radiography sensors by protecting cables from damage due to kinks and compression.

Its ideal resiliency helps maintain and return the cable inside to a more linear position. Prevents uncontrolled coiling, kinking, bending, knotting and tangling—and saves frustration too! With a slit down the entire length, it installs over any cable in minutes and stays in place for the life of the sensor. Medical-grade silicone construction withstands all surface disinfectants. 3/16" inner diameter.

Each kit is complete with parts and instructions for one sensor installation. Note: WireGuard does not replace the sensor manufacturer's warranty or maintenance plan. The user assumes full responsibility and liability for proper application and use of WireGuard.
